

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A method for determining topology of a network, the method comprising:
obtaining internal gateway protocol data; obtaining external gateway protocol data; and determining the network topology using the internal and external gateway protocol data.